Mamie Returns From Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower was back home today slightly sunken and five pounds thinner from a 16-day western vacation.

The First Lady said she had a "wonderful time" during the two weeks she spent at the exclusive Maine Chance women's beauty resort in Phoenix, Ariz. She also spent two days visiting her ailing mother in Denver, Colo.

The First Lady's sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who accompanied Mrs. Eisenhower on the western trip, said they hoped to visit Maine, Chance again.

President Eisenhower's face lighted up when his wife stepped from the presidential plane Columbine III Tuesday. He greeted her with a kiss.

Investment Club Meeting Thursday

A meeting of the Regional Investment Club will be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Kurtz country club. The meeting is sponsored by the Eldorado Investment Club, in co-operation with the clubs from Rosiclare, Ridgeway and Marion.

Harry W. Farmer of Thomson and McKennon in Evansville, will deliver an address on "Avoiding Pitfalls in Investment Club Operations."

Following the speaking a round table discussion will be held on the "Do's and Don'ts" of club operations.

Dinner reservations should be made immediately with Charles Kurtz at Poor Boy Market. The public is invited to attend and if they cannot attend the dinner they are invited to come for the speaking program.

Funeral services and burial will be in California.

Lee Morse

Defeats Hudnell, 1,536 to 928, In Election to Fill Williams Vacancy

Lee Morse won over Orval Hudnell in yesterday's special election in the City of Harrisburg.

Complete, unofficial totals gave Morse, 1,536 votes to 928 for Hudnell.

They ran for the city commissioner post created by a vacancy on the council. There has been a vacancy since last fall and yesterday's general election between the two men climaxed weeks of effort by the council to choose a successor to Don Williams, then the calling of the election after the time expired for the council members to agree upon a man.

The race got hot near the end as unsigned handbills were distributed throughout the city attacking Morse. Commissioners Sneed Jordan and Charles Hine, ex-commissioner Williams, Police Chief Ross Lane and Fire Chief L. G. Martin.

This resulted in the arrests of Mayor Claud Gibbons, Commissioner Morris Darnell, John H. L. Parish and Noah Gourley on charges relative to distribution of the handbills. All are out on bond. Parish was defeated as a candidate in the January primary that nominated Morse and Hudnell. Gourley is cemetery custodian in Darnell's department of Commissioner of Public Property.

A total of 2,507 went to the polls yesterday, less than in the January primary when 2,559 voted. Morse carried every precinct but the one in Dorrisville.

The results by ward:
No. 1, City hall, Morse 111, Hudnell 96.
No. 2, Humm Motor Co., Morse 189, Hudnell 72.
No. 3, Russler Plumbing Company, Morse 275, Hudnell 153.
No. 4, Franks Building, Morse 230, Hudnell 134.
No. 5, Leo Richmond's Garage, Morse 318, Hudnell 118.

Admits Choking Wife, 87, Because of Jealousy

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Authorities said Tuesday night that George Ostrom, 75, admitted choking and beating his wife, Ella, 87, because of jealousy. Ostrom was charged with murder.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

NOTE BY T.T.—This is another of the series of articles by Mrs. Daisy M. Seright of The Register telling of points of interest she has visited in California.

Wednesday morning, February 19, we left for a visit to Death Valley.

We crossed the range, getting up as high as 4,950 feet at Townes pass, but in only an hour were in the valley 280 feet below sea level—the lowest spot in the United States.

The valley is beautiful, even if the name does not indicate it. At this low level there are many wild flowers growing out of what appears just sand and rocks.

The noted Scotty's castle is situated here.

On drives through the valley, you see every color of rock imaginable, but I think the most impressive color is in the mustard canyon. It looks like mountains of Coleman mustard on every side.

This is near where the 20-Mule Team borax plant was first situated, and there are many old wagons and old steam engines on display there now.

We ate our lunch at the famous Turnace Creek Inn, from which we had a most impressive view.

We drove on to Las Vegas and spent the night there—that wasn't the only thing we spent—use your imagination.

After driving past what seemed to be hundreds of motels, we selected one for the evening, then went out to see the city.

The fabulous hotels are located on what is called The Strip. We

Foreign Aid Chiefs Answer Program Critics

Officials Claim Good Reason for Criticized Actions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign aid chiefs admitted today they once sent an electronic microscope to a recipient who had no electricity to run it. It worked out all right though. They just built a power plant to furnish the current.

At the same time they told Congress they did not either use foreign aid funds to:

- Conduct a Kinsey-type survey of sex habits in India.
- Build roads in Iran to nowhere.
- Furnish collapsible toothpaste tubes in Cambodia.

Funny At First Glance

Moreover, the officials said, there was a very good reason for doing some of the other things they did and for which they've been criticized.

—For instance they: —Put $48,000,000 into a sort of retirement program for 80,000 of Chinese Nationalist Chief Chiang Kai-shek's over-age soldiers so younger men could take their places. But they said this wasn't for pensions no matter what has been alleged.

—Built bathrooms on small lots in Manila, hoping that the Filipinos would build houses around them. Although the plan didn't catch on, the Philippine government later made good use of the plumbing. It built the houses around them for minimum rent occupancy.

—Made a survey of the reproduction of a Latin American flower "which could reasonably be mistaken as ornamental" because it also is useful as a hemp and burlap substitute.

The denials, explanations and rebuttals were contained in a volume formally answering a list of 80 questions and criticisms of the foreign aid program. The list was drawn up by the House Foreign Affairs committee and submitted to the International Cooperation Administration.

Use Delayed

The ICA acknowledged it sent two electronic microscopes to the Philippines and that use of one—at the University of the Philippines at Los Banos—was delayed because of a lack of power.

When the anticipated power source failed to deliver, the ICA said the United States helped the university build its own generating plant and now there's plenty of power for the microscope and other needs too.

Earlier, in oral testimony, ICA answered some of the 85 charges including claims it sent ice boxes to Eskimos (not true); provided striped pants for Greek undertakers (another falsehood — it was shoes for Greek soldiers); and built public baths for Egyptian camel drivers (a half truth — the baths were for everybody, to help stamp out hookworm).

Saline River Plan Included in Flood Control Measure

The U. S. House of Representatives yesterday passed a Flood Control and Rivers and Harbors Bill authorizing $5,970,000 for flood control improvements on the Saline River and tributaries, Congressman Kenneth J. Gray announced today.

"I was successful in defeating an amendment offered by the Republican leadership by a vote of 167 to 234 that would have forced local citizens to pay an additional $697,000 for local participation," Gray wired The Daily Register. "As the bill passed, Gray's wire continued, 'local interests will only be required to pay $233,000 instead of $930,000 recommended by the Bureau of the Budget.'"

"Veto action threatened by President on this and other projects. Hopeful of approval."

Weary Crew Postpones Effort

Navy Again Forced to Call Off Launching of Vanguard Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—They tried in vain again today to launch a Navy Vanguard rocket with a baby moon in its nose.

After working long hours to get the slender 72-foot missile into the sky, the weary Vanguard crew had to "scrub" the effort.

The firing was called off just before noon. No explanation was given.

It was apparent, however, some sort of trouble developed in the rocket, which had been due for launching early in the day.

In Washington, Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, announced:

"Technical difficulties slowed the test to a point where the allowable time that liquid oxygen could safely remain in the Vanguard test vehicle was exceeded, necessitating a postponement. The test will be rescheduled in the near future."

At one point, the countdown leading up to the firing progressed to four minutes and 12 seconds from triggering of the slim bird. After a delay of some four hours during which the service structure was rolled back over the rocket to make repairs, the count went to three minutes and 50 seconds.

There have been repeated efforts to get one of the Vanguards off the ground.

When newsmen first arrived at their vantage point about a mile and a half from the Vanguard launching pad, a ground fog was rolling over the cape, but the black, pointed nose of the rocket could be seen jutting above the fog.

The 6.4-inch satellite — which Vanguard officials conceded had a very small chance of going into orbit—was tucked inside the nose cone of the rocket.

Evidently the countdown had progressed rapidly and without a hitch up to that point, and it kept going until the first delay.

Skies, meanwhile, cleared until only a few clouds were strung across the blue—nearly a perfect day to watch the ascent of the rocket.

By the time the delay was over, clouds had knitted into a thick, gray roof over the cape at about 5,000 feet.

The Air Force sped a decontamination team into town but eased the fears of the populace later by announcing there was no radioactivity and that the bomb actually was harmless from a nuclear standpoint.

But Capt. James J. Brady, public information officer at SAC headquarters in Omaha, Neb., disclosed that the bomb that was ejected by accident from a Hunter Air Force Base B47 jet bomber was a "nuclear component." He explained there was no radioactivity because there had been no fission of the uranium in the device.

Brady said, however, that the bomb lacked only the fuse that is necessary to create the fission to make an atomic explosion.

The incident brought immediate concern among high ranking congressmen and brought fresh demands from left wing elements in Britain for banning U. S. guided missile bases there.

Search for Scraps

British papers headlined the accident.

"This incident is a clear indication of the dangers involved in stationing the H-bomb here," Sir Frederick Messer, leader of the Laborite faction which opposes the H-bomb, said in London. Two other Laborites announced they would bring up the question in Parliament.

Bits of torn and twisted metal from the bomb were being hunted by Air Force searchers and appeals went out to souvenir hunters to return the scraps they picked up in the minutes after the accident happened.

The Air Force said it merely wanted to investigate the pieces and insisted there was nothing radioactive about them.

Guards Posted on Farm
Chairman Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) of the joint congressional subcommittee on nuclear radiation will receive a full report. He said bombers as a rule never carry training weapons that could set off a nuclear explosion.

Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) said this accident bore out his contention that an accidental nuclear explosion was "probable." Guards posted on the farm warned newsmen to stay away from Gregg's house, which was wrecked along with the several outbuildings in the explosion which sent up a towering cloud of dust and smoke.

The sentries told newsmen they would "get shot before you get halfway there."

Gregg said from his hospital bed that a "green, foggy haze" rose from the blast and then a large black smoke cloud. The concussion shook canned goods off shelves in a store more than three miles from his farm.

Gregg's home was a shambles. "The roof was caved in the middle and there was a big hole in the side," Gregg said. "The furniture was all smashed. The outbuildings were laid flat and a bunch of pine trees near where the thing hit were torn up like match sticks."

The possible cost would be high at first in setting up the program. The probable per capita cost would be $100.

Steps which would be required to get a Junior College for Harrisburg and the advantages and disadvantages of such a program were outlined to members of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club last night at the Masonic temple by Ellis Henson, principal of the Harrisburg Township high school.

Much interest has been shown in a Junior College program and the Kiwanis club has as one of its projects support for such a program.

Steps which would have to be taken were listed by Mr. Henson as follows:

- 1—The board of education must request the State Department of Education to assist and must indicate an interest in the project;
- 2—Survey must be made for the potential students and there must be a sufficient number to support a Junior College;
- 3—A vote must be taken after the survey is made and a vote must be set up on a tax rate.

Six Persons Hurt In Blast; Area Closed

Bomb Lacked Only Fuse Necessary for Atomic Explosion

FLORENCE, S. C. (AP)—An atomic bomb, missing only the fuse that would have made it a disaster — dealing nuclear horror, plummeted from an American bomber into a farmyard late Tuesday, setting off a chain reaction of investigation and international concern.

Maj. Gen. John D. Ryan, director of materiel for the Strategic Air Command, rushed to this east-central South Carolina town at the head of a seven-man disaster control team trained especially to cope with nuclear accidents.

The bomb's trigger exploded when the bomb plowed into the earth in railroadman Walter Gregg's back yard. The blast bored a hole 35 feet deep and 30 feet wide in the ground.

Gregg and five members of his family were injured.

Teaching Should Be Exciting

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
We hardly need opinion surveys to establish that we in this country generally have a low opinion of the teaching profession. The salaries we pay teachers speak elo-quently of our attitude.

But samplings of opinion do reinforce this sad fact. Not only average citizens but community leaders seem to put teaching near the bottom of the career scale.

The general view is that teaching not only fails to bring financial reward and security and respect and recognition, but its not even more than moderately interesting work.

In the present circumstances, there can be no quarrel with these judgments as they relate to fame, prestige and monetary reward. The tragic thing here is that a vicious circle is involved. These apprais-als are true because Americans have made them true.

In other lands, teachers stand at or near the top in public esteem and generally are far better compensated than ours. Teaching is seen as honorable work lending at least a touch of distinction to those who practice it.

The hardest judgment to digest, however, is that teaching isn't very interesting. It should be—and can be—tremendously exciting. Whenever and wherever it is not, there is something radically wrong.

In the first place, teaching is charged with heavy and challenging responsibility. The task is one of helping to shape and mold the plastic minds of the young, to show them how to think and how to master knowledge.

Importance alone does not necessarily make for excitement. Things can be important but dull. But teaching at its best is a kind of missionary work, and there is a little bit of the missionary in all of us.

We find it exciting to let others in on the things we know of life, the experiences we have had, the insights we have perceived. Teaching offers that rich satisfaction magnified many times, for the story is not the teacher's own but the much fuller one of what the world is like and how an individual can be fitted to embrace it.

To tell that story, to help equip young people to deal with their world, the teacher must perforce learn how to think himself and master a lot of the accumulated knowledge of life. These masteries alone should place him high on the scale in prestige and reward.

Teaching above all is a dedication to the discovery and the spread of truth. If there is any more honorable enterprise on earth than this, what can it be?

"That Blankety-Blank Tree Is Spoiling the View"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Mississippi Congressman Leads The Witness; Government Wants 25 Per Cent Cut
In Phone Rates; Winchell
And Pegler Were Pioneers.

WASHINGTON — It looked as if National Airlines President G.
T. Baker and Congressman John Bell Williams, the Mississippi Dixiecrat, had rehearsed their testimony when Baker recently appeared before the Harris committee. Their subject was the author of this column. Here is what they said:

Rep. Williams: Mr. Baker, at this point I want to ask you a very friendly question. You don't have any objections to that, do you?

Baker: I would not have any objections to any question. I will answer any questions, friendly or unfriendly.

Williams: In answering this you pull your wheels up, you slap the throttles all the way. Will you please explain what connection you might find between Mr.
Katzentine (an applicant for Channel 10 in Miami) and Mr.
Drew Pearson? And I do hope you will use Mr. Truman's technique in discussing Mr. Pearson.

Baker: As I understand it, Mr.
Arnold, the son of Mr. Arnold of Mr. Porter's law firm, is the son-in-law of Mr. Drew Pearson; and reading Mr. Drew Pearson, he had a leak somewhere. I didn't come from the committee, I don't think, or maybe the staff.

Williams: You mean to imply that Mr. Pearson was not telling the truth?

Baker: I have heard that said before, and the fact that Mr. Arnold was a son of the law partner of Mr. Porter and the son-in-law of Pearson, that would be an obvious connection.

Williams: Do you feel that Mr.
Pearson has an interest in this matter?

Baker: I don't know—a financial interest?

Williams: Any kind of an interest.

Baker: I don't know, but the scandal mongering as he has been doing for these many years, that is his interest.

Williams: Go right ahead.
You are doing fine.

Baker: I will have to look at his column tomorrow morning after I said that, but it is the truth.

THE REAL FACTS

Baker is the airline executive who wrote a letter to Chairman Harris describing as "pure fabrication and vicious lies" my report that National Airlines had used influence through Thurman Whitely and Commissioner Mack to secure Channel 10 in Miami. Commissioner Mack has now resigned. The committee now has evidence that he received $41,000 from outside sources including Whitely, while on the FCC.

The above gibberish of Baker and Williams does not make sense to many people. Presumably, however, the National Airlines executive and the Mississippi congressman are referring to the fact that my son-in-law, George I. Arnold, now an attorney in Los Angeles, represented Dr.
Schwartz for one day, when Schwartz was ousted by the congressional committee and subpoenaed to testify before it.

Presumably, Baker and Williams think that because George is the son of Judge Thurman Arnold, who in turn is the law partner of Paul Porter, who in turn is the lawyer for Katzentine, who in turn applied for Channel 10 in Miami, I have some connection with this case.

While that conclusion is untrue, I should like to remind the congressman from Mississippi that my name, address, and number are in the phone book and I am available to straighten him out on this point any time he wants the facts.

LOWER PHONE RATES.
Frank Floete, head of General Services, has asked the Federal Communications Commission to order the Bell Telephone System to reduce government telephone rates by 25 per cent.

Bell is vigorously fighting the rate because it might set precedent for reducing home telephone rates, too.

It's the job of the FCC to regulate telephone matters. But ex-Commissioner Mack was very close to Southern Bell Telephone, while ex-Chairman McConaughy was a Bell attorney before being appointed to the FCC.

WINCHELL AND PEGLER
Public memory is short. Now that Congress is discussing two important problems—health and labor racketeering—it's interesting to recall who pioneered in these fields.

About 18 years ago, Walter Winchell initiated the first great drive to find a cure for cancer, with his Damon Runyon fund.
He's been plugging away ever since, has raised the tremendous total of $13,000,000—probably a record for any one man to pile up.

While many forget, not so Florida Southern College. It is giving Walter an honorary degree—Doctor of Human Letters.

Also about 18 years ago, another newsman, Westbrook Pegler, showed up labor racketeering in Hollywood, sent two famous labor figures, Browne and Bloff, to jail. This was the first real expose of a vice on which Senator McClellan's committee has made recent publicity mileage.

Today Congress is talking about cutting down the appropriation for research in cancer, heart, and other diseases. The McClellan committee may wind up its hearings fairly soon. But newspaper pioneering in these fields will go on.

DULLES ON FORMOSA

Chief reason why Secretary Dulles will fly to Formosa after the SEATO conference for secret talks with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is that Chiang is demanding a big increase in American military and economic aid.

Like Dictator Franco in Spain he's blackmailing the United States before he will agree to allow missile bases on his territory. Dulles is expected to give in on more economic aid; also may wind up inviting Chiang to make a formal visit to the White House.

Bad Fire Year

AUGUSTA, Me. — (UP)—Deputy
Forest Commissioner Austin Wilkins says 1957 has been the worst forest fire year in Maine since the disastrous 1947 fires. So far 26,000 acres of woods have burned. In 1947 more than 213, 000 acres were destroyed.

Maud Curry Is Demo Candidate For County Clerk

Maud Curry, deputy in the County Clerk's office for the past nine years, today is announcing her candidate for nomination for County Clerk of Saline County, subject to the Democratic primary election, April 8.

Mrs. Curry, a life-long Democrat, was raised in Eldorado, attended the Eldorado schools and at present resides at 29 Wise street, Eldorado.

She has been county chairwoman of the Saline County Democratic committee for the past six years and has been honored with the appointment of Co-Committeewoman of the 25th District, being assigned seven of the thirteen counties of the district. In this capacity she has worked closely with the Democratic committee in Saline county.

Mrs. Curry, during her approximately nine years as deputy county clerk, has become familiar with all the duties and responsibilities of the office and is known for her efficient and courteous service to everyone having business in the County Clerk's office.

Mrs. Curry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Long and her husband is Floyd Curry, who is ill and has not been able to work since 1950.

They have one daughter, Rose Louise, who is married to Charles Stanley Bishop of Raleigh, and they have three daughters.

Basketball Team, Birthdays Honored at Dinner

There was a chicken dinner Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin Sr., RFD 2, Galatia, for the B squad basketball team. The dinner also honored Mickey Martin, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin, and grandson, Gregory Dane Martin, 8 years old.

Featured was the birthday cake and the singing of the birthday song. There were pictures and games for the entertainment of the group and those present were: Millard Davis, coach, Donnie Wayne, Terry Bond, Verlie Beers, J. O. Hale, Brian Gardner, Mickey Martin, Gregory Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin Jr., Mt. Vernon.

Keith Martin was unable to attend because of illness.

D. A. R. Views Filmstrip of The American Revolution

The Michael Hillegas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution viewed a filmstrip of the story of the American Revolution as shown in pictures and art treasures of the American people. Mrs. Herman Boatright narrated the film and Mrs. Victor Humm operated the projector. Mrs. Frank Gray, regent, welcomed the members and guests to the meeting in the home of Mrs. Sam Barter, RFD 1, Harrisburg, and commented on the very good attendance in spite of the threatening weather and the absence of several of the members from the city. Guests were Mrs. John L. Foster and Mrs. J. W. Norman.

Miss Patricia Sayers, recording secretary, read the minutes of the Feb. 10 meeting and also presented the president's general message in the absence of Mrs. Lloyd L. Parker. The national defense message was given by Mrs. Thos. L. Ozment who added interest with a little digression about the origin of the Philadelphia "pepper pot" and gave the recipe. Mrs. Charles E. Combe in her chaplain's meditation read the "Cadet's Prayer," a moving dedication to loyalty and patriotism. The meeting was opened as is the custom with the pledging of allegiance to the flag and group singing of the National Anthem.

The nominating committee was appointed by the regent and its chairman, Mrs. Hal Burnett, will have on her committee Mrs. J. V. Capel and Mrs. George Robertson. The regent also pointed out several articles in the D. A. R. magazine and called attention to the mention of chapter members names and the Michael Hillegas chapter's advertisement.

Mrs. Barter, assisted by Mrs. Charles Ford, served dessert and coffee to the members and guests.

Faithful Followers Class Meets With Mrs. Shirley Wintzler

The Faithful Followers Sunday school class of the Big Ridge church met in the home of Mrs. Shirley Wintzler on March 4. Roll call was answered with the number of chapters of scripture read during the past month. Mrs. Theda Miller gave the devotion on the subjects, "Life and Happiness."

Mrs. Wintzler was in charge of recreation and refreshments were served. Those present were: Genevieve Alvey, Mae Nell Gates, Marilyn Mattingly, Eva Mugge, Wilma Rister, Margaret Wise, a visitor, Donna Oliver and the hostess.

Carolyn Holmes and Randall Henson To Marry Thursday at Carrier Mills Baptist Church

Carolyn Holmes

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes of Carrier Mills are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn, to Randall Henson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Henson, also of Carrier Mills. The wedding will take place Thursday, March 13, at 7 p. m., at the Baptist church, with the Rev. Bertie Smith officiating.

A reception will follow the ceremony in the basement of the church, and friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend.

Little Hanna Missionary Society Elects Officers

The Little Hanna Missionary Society of the First Church of God met at the home of Mrs. Bee Holland.

The service was opened by prayer led by Emma Hibbs. The business meeting was conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. Verbal Alexander. The annual election of officers was held and the following were elected to serve for the year 1958-59: Mrs. Eathel Fisher, president; Mrs. Bee Holland, vice president; Mr. Verbal Alexander, secretary; Miss Marianne Alexander, treasurer; Mrs. Emma Hibbs, historian; Mrs. Ethel Keneipp, stewardship director; Miss Beulah Lievers, missionary education director; Mrs. Verna White, membership; Mrs. Margie Alexander, publications director. These officers will be installed at the next meeting of the society.

Following the business session a very inspiring devotional was given by Mrs. Eathel Fisher using scriptures from the 4th chapter of St. Luke. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Verna White.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the above mentioned and to the following: Mrs. Gladys O'Connor, Mrs. Helen Jenkins, Mrs. Elsie Dudley, Miss Lenora Hibbs.

Eastern Star to Observe Friends' Night Thursday

Friends' night will be observed Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the stated meeting of the Harrisburg chapter of Eastern Star. Friends of officers have been invited to fill the offices for the evening.

Mrs. W. R. (Susanna) Unsell will be the guest of honor. Mrs. I. B. (Alice) Clark, a past matron of the chapter, will be the acting worthy matron and Elmer McCormick will serve as worthy patron.

Mrs. G. B. Wiley and Elbert Norris, worthy matron and patron, are inviting all members of the chapter and visiting members to be present.

Captain Robert G. Miley Jr. of the U. S. Air Force is in Harrisburg on a 30-day leave visiting his wife and two children. Capt. Miley, who has been stationed at the Dewline at Point Barrow, Alaska, the past year flying T-33 Jets and C-47s, will report to Tyndall Air Force Base at Panama City, Fla., at the end of his leave.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seright are parents of a girl born at the Harrisburg hospital Tuesday. The baby weighed seven pounds, five ounces and had not yet been named this morning. The mother of the child is the former Miss Jane Lasersohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn, Harrisburg. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Catherine Seright and the paternal great grandmother, Mrs. Roy Seright, now visiting in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reasons, RFD 1, Raleigh, are parents of a girl born at the Harrisburg hospital Tuesday. The baby has been named Martha Lee and weighed seven pounds, eight ounces at birth. The mother is the former Miss Shirley Ann Kaid of Harrisburg RFD 4.

The Statue of Liberty was designed and constructed by the French sculptor, Frederic Bartholdi.

JIM MONTEDONICO, driver and librarian of the Illinois State Library bookmobile, and librarians of the Mitchell-Carnegie Library, Mrs. Mary J. Rice and Miss Hazel Sunday, standing before the bookmobile on its visit to the library in Harrisburg Tuesday afternoon. (Register Staff Photo)

Illinois State Bookmobile Makes First Stop at Harrisburg Library

Illinois State Library Bookmobile made its first stop at the Mitchell-Carnegie library in Harrisburg Tuesday. The librarians, Mrs. Mary J. Rice and Miss Hazel Sunday, made selections from the more than 3000 books on its shelves. It has a capacity of approximately a 4000 book load.

Jim Montedonico is the driver and librarian for the Bookmobile. His home is in Decatur and he is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame with a Ph.D. degree in business and philosophy. Mr. Montedonico has been with the State Library for about four years, and for three of those years he has been displaying and explaining the service of the Bookmobile at the county fairs throughout Illinois. He has visited the fairs at Benton, Pinckneyville and Metropolis in this area and the unit will service the community libraries including Anna, Mounds, Metropolis, Vienna, Golconda, Rosiclare, Eldorado, McLeansboro and Grayville.

It leaves Carbondale in the morning with a full bookload and returns at the end of the day. It will be in Harrisburg about once in every five weeks.

Books may be borrowed from the Carbondale library on the second floor of the university library and left at the Harrisburg library to be picked up, thus one trip is saved if it is desirable to borrow a book for reference and it is needed before the next trip of the bookmobile is scheduled. This is the first unit to be used for this particular service and Tuesday was its first visit. The librarians have known for some weeks that it would be here and compiled a list of wanted books to be borrowed for the Harrisburg library.

The unit moves out of the regional library established at the SIU library under the provisions of the Federal Library Act and through the cooperation of the SIU and the Illinois State Library.

The Harrisburg tax-supported library is eligible for the service.

The librarians may select materials of her own choice from the materials it carries. The materials carried will be for adults, young people and children and will be chiefly non-fiction and reference material. It is believed that the local libraries can better supply the demands for fiction.

The service will not interfere with the normal purchasing of materials that will be supplied for the library since it is only a supplemental service. It is hoped that the supplemental service will provide library patrons with many useful materials enabling them to develop more interest and greater support for the local library.

General rules adopted for a guide for the use of the library service is as follows:

1. A maximum of two hundred books may be borrowed at any one visit of the Bookmobile or to the regional library.

2. The loan period will be for a period of sixty days and may be extended for an additional sixty days provided there is not a need for the material elsewhere.

3. These loaned materials may be circulated in accordance with your own local library rules.

4. Your library assumes the usual responsibility for replacing or paying for lost or damaged materials in accordance with the policy of the Illinois State Library regarding loaned materials.

5. Requests for larger collections to be loaned for longer periods of time will be handled directly from the Regional Library in Carbondale or from the Illinois State Library in Springfield.

Elizabeth Taylor To Quit Acting

HOLLYWOOD — Actress Elizabeth Taylor says she is going to quit acting for the role in life she thinks is most important—being a wife and mother.

Miss Taylor said Monday she plans to complete her role in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" and then perhaps work for her husband, Mike Todd, next year in "Don Quixote" before retiring for good. She has three children.

Now It's Dehydrated Steak and Pork Chops For Armed Forces

WASHINGTON — Things weren't tough enough when the Army fed dehydrated eggs to the GI. Now he's in for dehydrated steak and pork chops.

The Commerce Department, which has been conducting tests for the armed forces, reported today that "stability of vitamins in dehydrated beef steaks and pork chops is as good and possibly better than that in fresh beef or pork."

"It was concluded from this study," the department said, "that replacement of fresh or canned steaks and chops by the dehydrated products would result in no decrease in the quantity of riboflavin, niacin and thiamine in military rations."

Wide Choice of Jobs for Top Ranking Students

CARBONDALE, Ill.—College students with high grades need not worry about increasing competition for jobs, says Dr. Royce R. Bryant, director of Southern Illinois University's Placement Service.

"Graduates who rank in the upper fourth of their class scholastically, still have a wide choice of positions," Dr. Bryant said.

"With the job situation tightening over the nation, companies naturally are looking for the best qualified people. My advice to the student is to work harder for those top-notch grades which impress employers."

For the first time since Dr. Bryant became placement director at Southern in 1950, his office is receiving cancellations on scheduled visits by prospective employers.

On the other hand, the SIU Registrar's Office expects a graduating class of about 800 this June—the largest in the University's history.

Despite this changing picture in employment supply and demand, Dr. Bryant sees no serious job placement problem for college graduates in 1958, particularly in the teaching field.

"There will be more teachers available than in previous years, mainly because some who were lured into 'business and industry' by higher salaries will be returning," he said.

"But we also expect an increased demand for teachers," he added. "Actually, the return to teaching of people who have been in industry is more likely to raise than lower teachers' salaries. They have been accustomed to higher pay and won't settle for less."

The Venetians, in about 1300, were the first to make mirrors of glass by backing them with a coating of mercury and tin. These quickly took the place of earlier metal mirrors. Venetian mirror-makers formed a corporation to protect the secrets of their manufacturing methods. If anyone carried the art into a foreign country his nearest relatives were imprisoned, and the corporation sent members to find and kill him.

U. S. Willing for Summit Meeting If Chance to Ease Tension: Dulles

MANILA (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States was willing to attend a "summit" meeting if there was hope of reaching a disarmament agreement and of relaxing world tension.

Dulles, in a major policy pronouncement preceding a Big Three foreign ministers conference here, told the SEATO nations the present world tension has "brought us close to the sparks of world war on more than one occasion."

Dulles met today with French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and British Foreign Secre-

Lauren Bacall Hints She Will Wed Frank Sinatra

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Lauren Bacall and Frank Sinatra are reported to be altar-bound but confirmation must come from the singer.

The 33-year-old widow of Humphrey Bogart hinted to friends Thursday night that it was possible she would wed Sinatra. However, she wouldn't say when or where and added:

"Any further statement has to come from Mr. Sinatra."

Sinatra was not talking in Miami Beach, Fla., where he is making a night club appearance. His hotel said he was unavailable for comment.

The sultry film star provoked speculation about a possible marriage last month with the statement that she certainly intended to marry again. She was widowed in January, 1957.

Johnston City Opposes Plans To Close Depot

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (AP) — A hearing on a proposal by the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad to close its depot in Johnston City has been continued to April 23 in Springfield.

The Illinois Commerce Commission conducted a hearing Tuesday at Johnston City in which the city presented its arguments against closing the depot.

Ten witnesses appeared for the city. Among them was Mayor Fred Henderson of neighboring Herrin who said the closure would work a hardship on passengers waiting for trains.

The city introduced a 20-section resolution in which it said closure of the depot would inconvenience Johnston City businesses in freight shipments. It also suggested a merger of C & E I and Missouri Pacific depots to cut operational costs.

Henson Outlines Steps for Junior College

run from $300 to $350 with the state paying $200 of this. The remainder would have to be paid at local tax levels, Mr. Henson said. The present adult programs at the high school pay their own way, he added.

Advantages of such a program, Mr. Henson said, would be to enable students who are unable to go to college at the present time to add two years of college study while remaining at home; it would be an attraction to people of this area to send their children to a nearby school for the two years and would aid the economy of Harrisburg; and a big advantage would be in raising the educational level of the community.

At the present time, Mr. Henson said, the students at the HTHS get a good education through the 12th grade, and if the community desires a Junior College program he would be willing to support such a project.

A meeting will be held in Springfield April 15, which Mr. Henson will attend, and at which time reports on a survey of eligible communities to be recommended for Junior Colleges would be made. Harrisburg probably will be recommended at that time.

Fred Wundelich was program chairman for the meeting last night. Announcement was made by Robert Rushing, president of the club, that the traveling gavel would be taken to Cairo next Tuesday evening. The Harrisburg club members will leave the Masonic temple by bus at 4:30 p. m. to go to the Cairo meeting in a body. Rushing asked attendance by everyone in the club if possible.

Announcement also was made that Ladies' night would be observed Tuesday evening, March 25, with the Rev. Glen Daugherty in charge of planning the event.

HTHS Key club members present at last night's meeting were Mike Woolcott and Edward Bowles.

About Town And Country

spent some time in the Flamingo, then drove downtown to some of the older places. We went to the Golden Nugget for dinner and the Golden Horseshoe later.

We visited dozens of places, and about midnight decided we had used up all our energy plus the small amount of cash we had allotted ourselves for Las Vegas, so we retired, then drove back to San Pedro on Thursday.

Saturday we visited downtown Los Angeles and on Sunday we had an appointment with my nephew Gloyd Rose and his mother Mae. He took us to the Greek Orthodox church, which was to me the most beautiful I had ever seen, not expecting so many I had seen in Europe.

We went to the old movie sets where many of the old time pictures were shot, and where some newer ones are still filmed.

We went on a drive through Hollywood and saw lots of homes of noted people. Then we drove to Ferndale in Griffith Park, donated to the City of Los Angeles by the Griffith family.

On top of the highest point is the observatory which we reached just after sundown. We could see many of the cities and towns in the area and it appeared to be just one sea of lights. We came down and went to a French restaurant for dinner.

Washington's birthday, we sat in the backyard in the sun, and from the garden we picked roses, lilies, daisies, sweet peas, poinsettias, geraniums and even lemons—all in the back yard.

Judges Study Challenge to Use of Troops

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A panel of three federal judges today considered a constitutional challenge to President Eisenhower's power to use troops in enforcing racial integration at Little Rock, Ark., Central High School.

The challenge was contained in one of three cases brought before the U. S. District Court of Appeals here. The judges heard oral arguments in all three cases Tuesday and took them under advisement. There was no indication when a ruling would be handed down.

All of the suits appealed decisions by Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies which resulted in the integration of the Little Rock school last fall.

In one case, Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus appealed Davies' ruling forbidding the governor from using National Guard troops to keep the Negro children from attending the high school.

The other suits involved the President's rights to send troops to enforce a Federal Court order calling for integration, and an injunction by Davies preventing enforcement of an Arkansas state court ruling forbidding integration.

On the troop issue, Little Rock attorney Kenneth Coffelt termed the sending of federal troops to Arkansas "a disgrace to civilized society."

Coffelt appeared on behalf of Mrs. Margaret Jackson, president of the segregationist League of Central High Mothers, who contended the constitutional rights of herself and her two daughters were violated by the troops.

Coffelt argued that Federal Court rulings are not laws which the President can execute under the terms of the Constitution. He said only Congress can make such laws.

Federal attorneys contended the term law in the Constitution is a general one which includes court decisions.

Dow Jones Official Blames Recession On Buyers' Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A "buyers' strike" was blamed for the current recession Tuesday by Dow Jones President Robert M. Feemster who said there was "nothing drastically wrong" with the economy.

Feemster, executive committee chairman of the Wall Street Journal, described the business slump as a "digestive period" following an "economic binge."

He said some of the ways to prevent the recession from becoming a full-scale depression are a greater degree of ownership, no matter how high the consumer debt, large fund pension programs and continuing outlays for defense.

He also said a small across-the-board tax cut this year "wouldn't do much good."

"It will probably save each taxpayer a couple of dollars, but might entail a revenue loss to the government," he explained. "This is not the type of tax cut we need."

schools for leaders given by the county home and farm advisers and university specialists, and leaders from supporting business concerns. For example, at the end of March a training school for home economics leaders on the 1958 electrical activity "Better Light—Better Sight" will be given at the Marion REA, and Eldorado REA. Leaders have a choice of the most convenient day.

Another aspect of 4-H work much looked forward to by the members is 4-H district camp at West Frankfort. Members may attend one week each summer, and enjoy boating, swimming instruction, archery, and many other outdoor sports, and competent craft personnel lead an interesting craft program.

Girls and boys learn important things in 4-H. Recently 4-H work has begun in the city of Chicago. The state director and others who planned this program plan for "juvenile decency," NOT juvenile delinquency. Leaders report a feeling of tremendous satisfaction in guiding young people to a finer life that outweighs time and effort given generously to leading a club.

If a boy or girl, aged 10 to 21, unmarried and will be 10 by July 1, and would like to become a member, OR if you are interested in learning more about leading a club, please call the Home or Farm Advisers' office (CL 3-7711) located in the new Farm Bureau building at 21 West Robinson street in Harrisburg, or contact a local club leader.

Angered at Scene

Young Typist Leaps Across Footlights, Attacks Leading Man in Broadway Play

NEW YORK (AP) — A pretty young typist, apparently angered at an adulterous scene in the Broadway play "Look Back in Anger," leaped across the footlights during Tuesday night's performance and attacked the leading man.

Crying, "He left me, he left me," Joyce C. Greller, 25, rushed across the stage and began striking British actor Kenneth Haigh, who portrays a cruel adulterer in the play.

"Why do you treat this girl this way?" she cried.

Haigh warded off her blows as fellow actor Alan Bates came to his aid. The two herded her toward the wings and actress Vivienne Drummond, who plays the adulterer's mistress, called for the curtain. The play resumed seven minutes later.

Lyceum Theater officials said the third act scene usually gets a laugh, even though it is an ironic one.

The first act had opened with the husband and a friend onstage reading newspapers as the wife irons shirts. But by the time the third act arrived the husband has driven his wife to leave him and the mistress has moved in. This act opens on the ironic scene of the husband and the friend reading newspapers as the mistress irons the shirts. Nothing has changed but the woman who irons.

Miss Greller calmed down backstage and apologized for her behavior. She was released without charge.

Miss Greller said today that "something began building up in me right from the beginning."

"I was in one of my tense emotional cycles," she said. "I just had a fight a few days ago with a boyfriend and this thing on the stage reminded me of all the men I've known. It was a composite of every one of those rats."

Mack Unable to Tell Probers Source of $8,000 in Bank Account

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard A. Mack who quit under fire as a Federal Communications Commission member, told House investigators today that he is unable to say where he got nearly $8,000 deposited in his bank account since 1955.

He emphasized however, that the money was not income. It was deposited in his checking account since he joined the FCC in July, 1955.

Mack repeated in testimony before the House subcommittee on legislative oversight that he had not yielded to pressure on any of his votes as an FCC member.

But he conceded that he was "bothered" by heavy pressure put on him in the hotly disputed Miami television Channel 10 case. Mack voted with the majority in giving the channel to a subsidiary of National Airlines.

Feels "Not So Good"

Mack was recalled by the subcommittee in an attempt to clear up some of the confusion about his tangled financial arrangements with Thurman A. Whiteside Miami attorney and a life-long friend who asked Mack to vote for National Airlines.

Park Livingston Is Re-Elected President Of U. of I. Trustees

CHICAGO (AP)—Park Livingston has been re-elected to his 10th term as president of the University of Illinois board of trustees.

Livingston, of La Grange, has served on the board for 18 years, nine of them as president. Wayne A. Johnston and Mrs. Frances B. Watkins, both of Chicago, also were re-elected Tuesday with Livingston to the executive committee of the board which governs all student activities in the university of more than 27,000 students.

Rushing Rites at Rosiclar Thursday

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Rushing, 78, resident of Rosiclar who died in the Lightner hospital in Harrisburg Monday, will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Rosiclar Methodist church. Rev. Dennis Ramsey will officiate and burial will be in the Fluorine cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Hosick funeral home until time for the funeral.

According to estimates, 25 percent of the fires of undetermined origin have been caused by rats.

Expect Hundreds of Area Children To Use Camp Si-Bo-Gi This Season

CARBONDALE, Ill. — From all indications, Southern Illinois school children by the hundreds will explore the remote 375 acres of Camp Si-Bo-Gi this spring in a day camping program sponsored by the Educational Council of 100.

Si-Bo-Gi, an abbreviation for "Southern Illinois Boys and Girls," is a rustic wooded area east of Giant City State Park at the southern end of Little Grass Lake.

Gordon E. Kerr Candidate for State Senator

Gordon E. Kerr

This week Representative Gordon E. Kerr officially announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator from the 51st District. Mr. Kerr is finishing his fourth term as State Representative.

During the past eight years Kerr has served on some of the most important House committees. For the past two terms he has served as chairman of the Veterans committee and is considered the spokesman for the Veterans in the House. He is also chairman of the Illinois Livestock and Sales Commission.

During the past eight years Kerr has gained statewide recognition for his independent voting and has been commended and endorsed by most organizations in the state, and was rated by one of the most highly regarded members of the House.

During the last session of the General Assembly Kerr was chief sponsor of 22 bills that were passed and approved by the Governor. He has been active in Veteran, Conservation, School, Welfare, Labor and Fair Assessment legislation. He has been active in getting industry into southern Illinois and has been successful on several occasions. During the past six years more state money has been spent in the 51st district than at any other like period. Kerr has helped in getting this work.

Mr. Kerr plans on making an active campaign and seeing as many people in the 51st district as possible.

Lake. The federal government leased the land to the Council in 1935 for school camp development. The Council is a regional organization of school people and laymen.

Mrs. Jo Ann Boydston, Council executive director, has received inquiries about using the camp from schools as far distant as St. Clair and White counties.

Si-Bo-Gi is attracting students of all ages, too, she said. Among the groups scheduled to spend a day there in May are the Carlyle high school seniors and all the pupils, including first graders, of Jackson County's Unity Point school.

Invitations were extended to nearly 900 schools in the state's 31 southernmost counties. There will be no charge to schools using the camp this summer, Mrs. Boydston said, since the Council is eager to introduce Si-Bo-Gi to students, teachers, and administrators.

"We feel that once the people see the possibilities of a regional school camp, they will give the Council a big boost in financial and moral support," she explained. Overnight camping facilities will be added to the camp when funds become available.

A typical day's excursion for school groups this spring will include a bus tour of Giant City State Park, a hike at Si-Bo-Gi, a "cook-out" lunch, a nature treasure hunt, outdoor games, and a swim in Little Grass Lake at the Southern Illinois University Camp beach near Si-Bo-Gi.

Physical education and recreation students at SIU will serve as guides, game leaders, and safety directors.

Schools planning to use Si-Bo-Gi this spring must make reservations with the Council by April 5, Mrs. Boydston said. Visits will be scheduled on a "first come, first served" basis.

Practical Nurse Ass'n to Meet At Springfield

Mrs. Rachel Ashley of Carmi, president of division 12 of the Licensed Practical Nurse Association of Illinois, announced the ninth annual state convention to be held March 19-22 at the Hotel Leland in Springfield. Four hundred nurses are expected to register for the meeting.

The convention will open at 8 p. m. March 19 with greetings to the nurses from Governor William G. Stratton and will close with a session following the annual breakfast Saturday morning, Mar. 22.

Conferences with addresses by prominent health authorities, panel discussions and a tour of Springfield are included on the four-day program.

Delegates of the local division named to attend the convention are: Mrs. Ashley, Ruby Price and Beatrice Organ, both of Eldorado; Lena F. Duncan, Stella Hamilton, Pauline Alexander and Mable Squires, all of Mt. Vernon; Mary Lamasters, Christopher D. Fuller, West Frankfort and Lucy Pool, Benton.

NOMINATE

MAUD CURRY

Maud Curry, candidate for the nomination for County Clerk on the Democratic ticket, is qualified for the office by the experience gained as Deputy County Clerk for nine years.

Mrs. Curry is a life-long Democrat, has served the party as County Chairwoman for the past six years and as Co-Committeewoman of the 25th District.

She is a native of Eldorado, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Long and her husband is Floyd Curry, who is ill and has not been able to work since 1950.

NOMINATE

MAUD CURRY for County Clerk on the Democratic ticket—she is well qualified through experience, efficient and courteous.

The proportion of working women between the ages of 45 and 54 doubled in the United States between 1940 and 1956. There also were increases in the 10-year age groups preceding and following those ages, but in the 20 to 24 age group, the reverse was true.

out his hand. "I'm glad to see you, Sebastian."

"Captain," Sebastian said, as their palms met, "if there be apologies due on my part for things said or done in the past, consider them rendered."

He went on then and she met him in the doorway.

"Hello, Ward. What brings you here?"

He regarded her gravely. "You know, Connie."

He was hard-jawed and travel-stained and he seemed to fill the whole of this small room with his big-shouldered presence.

Connie's gray eyes blurred and a treacherous quaver crept into her voice.

"You might have answered my note. There were dispatch riders coming and going constantly between here and the Tule Lake headquarters. Why—why didn't you?"

"You needed time to be sure."

The tears brimmed over as she went into the strong comfort of his arms.

"I—I've been so lonely, Ward. And I'm sure—so very sure!"

Some time later there was sudden commotion in the lower fort area, and a thin, hard shout carried electrifying word.

"Kentipoo! Captain Jack! They captured him on Willow Creek. They're bringing in Captain Jack!"

From all quarters officers and men appeared, hurrying. This prisoner they had to see, the big one.

* * *

He moved with his captors to the stockade. Just a ragged, squat figure, yet at this moment he walked with the great height of unshakable dignity. His dark face was gaunt and sadly stoic, his black eyes deep sunken. Eyes that looked straight ahead, fixed unwaveringly on the far, fathomless distances of eternity. Silent himself, he was now suddenly paid the tribute of silence.

Ward Sebastian spoke softly.

"He has the same look about him that Barucho and Black Jim showed me. They've captured the substance of him, but his spirit has slipped away."

Standing in the circle of Sebastian's arms, Connie Ashland asked: "What will they do with him, Ward?"

"The word I've had is that all directly responsible for General Canby's death must hang. Which will be a senseless, useless thing. For you cannot punish something that has moved beyond your reach."

Connie shivered, pressed her face against his shoulder.

"The mountain — Shasta. He'll never see it again."

"Never," Sebastian told her, his voice going gruff in his throat.

Mount Vernon Rams Play Metropolis Here In Tournament Opener

Carrier Mills and West Frankfort Will Meet Thursday Night

The Harrisburg sectional basketball tournament and 14 other sectionals throughout Illinois get under way with single contests tonight and tomorrow and Friday evenings.

Here tonight the Mt. Vernon Rams, ever powerful in tourney play, meet the Metropolis Trojans at eight o'clock and the Rams generally are favored to win the contest.

Tomorrow night there will be big interest in the game between Carrier Mills and West Frankfort and the following evening the two winners will play for the championship.

The Chicago Daily News yesterday picked Mt. Vernon to win over Metropolis in a roundup of first night contests. The article declared that Mt. Vernon had a good outside shot in Jerry Changnon and a fine ball handler in Coleman Carrodine.

Frankfort Favored Here
The Associated Press conducted a poll of sportswriters and broadcasters who handle AP copy and the result was that Rock Falls, Herrin and West Frankfort were ranked one-two-three to capture the state basketball crown.

For the Harrisburg tournament, Frankfort got 15 votes to win the meet, Mt. Vernon got two and the other schools received no votes.

Plenty of Tickets For Sectional Game Tonight
Indications are there will be plenty of tickets of all types for tonight's opening game of the Harrisburg Sectional Basketball tournament featuring Mt. Vernon vs. Metropolis.

Elvis Henson, HTHS principal and tournament manager, stated today he expected to have plenty of seats to go on sale at the gym doors tonight and was of the opinion there would be choice seats available for sale at the door Thursday night. Friday's championship game may be a sellout, but tickets for that game are still available.

To make it convenient for all concerned, Mr. Henson asked that tickets for the tournament be purchased at the booths listed below: Reserved chair seats, (if any are returned by participating schools) northwest front door; west floor bleachers, northwest front door; east floor bleachers, southeast back door; student general admission, both front doors; adult general admission, all doors.

Chair seats are $1, all other seats are 75 cents, except student general admission which will be 50 cents.

Length of life of flower seeds varies considerably, depending on the type of flower. Morning glory seeds may live 5 to 10 years.

Manhattan Upsets West Virginia, Miami, Ohio, Beats Pittsburgh in NCAA

By United Press
They're ripping the form sheet to shreds in the NCAA Basketball Tournament, with national champion West Virginia and hot-shooting Pittsburgh the first major upsets.

West Virginia, ranked the nation's No. 1 team at the close of the regular season, was booted out of the NCAA tourney in the very first round Tuesday night by Manhattan, 89-84, in the biggest upset of the season.

And Pittsburgh, despite 28 points by half-pint powerhouse Don Hennon, was dealt an 82-77 defeat by Miami of Ohio in an other first-rounder.

Others as Expected
The other four opening round games went as expected: Dartmouth's Ivy League champions drubbing Connecticut, 75-64; Maryland's Atlantic Coast Conference kings romping over Boston College, 86-63; Notre Dame rolling up the round's highest score, 94-61, over Tennessee Tech; and Oklahoma State pulling its old defense game to beat Loyola of the South, 59-42.

In Tuesday's only other game bearing on the big tourney, Arkansas downed SMU, 61-55, at Shreveport, La., in the special playoff for the NCAA berth from the Southwest Conference.

The first round will be completed tonight with a doubleheader at Berkeley, Calif., in which Wyoming (13-13) plays Seattle (18-5) and Idaho State (21-4) meets Arizona Tempe State (13-12).

To The Public

HENRY C. DEMPSEY

I have been confined to my bed for the past week and will be confined for another two weeks as a result of straining muscles around my heart while lifting a heavy object at my home a week ago today.

That is the reason you have not been seeing me in my campaign for the Republican Nomination for Sheriff of Saline County.

However, my doctor has told me that in two weeks time I should be able to be up and about greeting the public and soliciting its support for the April 8 Primary Election.

I will appreciate all words said in my behalf during my stay at home.

Thank you very much and God Bless You.

Henry C. Dempsey

Your candidate for Sheriff in the Republican Primary April 8.

Injuries Hurt Herrin's Hopes For State Title

HERRIN, Ill. — Herrin's hopes of repeating as state high school basketball champions were dimmed today with the squad's two starting guards sidelined with ankle injuries.

Guard Richard Box sprained his ankle in practice Tuesday and Coach Bob Hutchinson said he probably would not be able to play until next Tuesday, if Herrin still is in the running by then.

Earlier, Willie Williams sprained his ankle in the regional tourney game at Marion against Murphysboro. Williams may be ready for action by Friday. Both players are veterans of last year's state title team.

MOST VALUABLE. Warren Talley, Southern Illinois University basketball co-captain from Pinckneyville, has been named by his teammates as the most valuable player for the 1957-58 cage season. A standout on defense and the team's second highest scorer, Talley, a journalism major, is one of the two seniors on the SIU team. (SIU Photo Service)

Good Response in Schools to Medical And Dental Exams

The Harrisburg Public Schools are proud of the fine spirit of cooperation shown by the parents of present kindergarten children, those who will enter the kindergarten program next fall, and the current third and fourth graders, Ethel Mathias, school nurse, stated today.

Doctors and dentists report a steady inflow into their offices for medical and dental examinations. It would further simplify the physical check if a urine specimen were taken to the doctor at the time of the office visit. An early morning specimen is preferable. Any clean jar with a screw-on lid is a good container. Avoid using bottles with corks that might have been sugar soaked.

Seventh graders should plan to have their health check-up in May as previously scheduled.

Parents who take their children to out-of-town doctors should call the school nurse, Mrs. Ethel Mathias, Clearbrook 3-7296, and request medical and dental forms to take with them since only local doctors are supplied with examination blanks.

Paul Powell is Candidate for The Legislature

Paul Powell

Formal announcement of the candidacy of Paul Powell of Vienna for the Democratic nomination for Representative in the General Assembly of Illinois for the 59th district is carried in today's edition of this newspaper.

Mr. Powell is seeking nomination and re-election on his record as a Democrat and his service to his district.

He has been a Democratic precinct committeeman in Johnson county for 35 years and has served as chairman of the Johnson county Democratic Central committee for 12 years.

He has an enviable record in the Illinois Legislature, first representing the old 51st Illinois district and now representing the 59th District, which is composed of Hamilton, Saline, Gallatin, Johnson, Pope, Massac, Hardin and Williamson counties.

In 1945 he was Minority Whip of the Illinois House. In 1947 he was Minority Leader and in 1949 was elected Speaker of the House. He was Minority Leader again in 1951 and 1953.

He was downstate director of the Democratic State Central Committee in 1945 and 1953 and in 1951 and 1955 was voted "Outstanding Legislator of Illinois" by vote of independent newspapermen covering the General Assembly.

Rep. Powell has been especially active in legislation in behalf of schools, labor and agriculture and has sponsored and seen made into law numerous bills affecting these and other interests of his district.

Two Democrats are to be nominated for the legislature in the April primary, with a total of three representatives to be elected in November from the two Democratic and two Republican nominees.
